The Wayne Brown Institute and VentureCapital.org are accepting early submissions until Oct. 1 from start-up companies that want to pitch a deal to investors.

The 28th annual Investors Choice Venture Capital Conference will be presented Feb. 9 at Zermatt Resort and Spa in Midway.

Early birds will save money and receive feedback from the institute's evaluation team, sponsors say.

Selected companies will be screened and mentored through a number of sessions with teams of experienced professionals from the angel and venture capital fields. After a series of practice presentations and investor feedback sessions, companies can make their pitches at the conference.
